Subject: EOCCG Update 4: Planned Truck Demonstration

Good evening,

There are currently an estimated 1000 people in the area surrounding Parliament Hill, with less than 100 remaining on Parliament Hill. The planned speeches have concluded; however, crowds remain in place. Some protesters have left or are readying to leave, but a core group appear to be staying in the City. Ottawa Police, along with TIMG and Bylaw, are working to facilitate the departure of individuals who are wanting to leave the area.

The crowd was generally peaceful today. The evening is lining up to look similar to last night, with a "party" crowd. Police have increased their presence for tonight in order to maintain the peace. The Monday itinerary appears to be centered around an event at Confederation Park. The times are unknown, but plans look to mimic those of today. Of note, Parliament is planning to sit tomorrow, in person. The EOC is unaware of any plans to move to a virtual sitting. For the first time today, there was intelligence to suggest protest organizers intend to end the event on February 2, 2022. The EOC will remain operational until this time, including by maintaining our representation at the NCRCC.

The EOC continues to collect information pertaining to City service impacts for Monday, January 31:

- OPH have confirmed the closure of the uOttawa Vaccination Clinic on Monday. Clients will be called to re-book their appointments. There was a clinic planned for the Shepherds of Good Hope that will be re-scheduled.
- OPL have confirmed the closure of the Main Branch and the Rideau Branch on Monday. Homebound services to those in the affected areas will also be re-scheduled.
- As noted earlier, the City Hall facility and parking garage will remain closed until at least Tuesday, February 1. The Rink of Dreams will also remain closed. CSSD will close St. Luke's and Pinocchio Municipal Child Care Centres Monday and will assess for possible closure Tuesday.

Services that have been altered, but not cancelled:

- All OC Transpo bus routes with service downtown are expected to remain on detour into Monday.
- The Salvation Army Outreach Van can support Tom Brown and Dempsey but will not travel in/out of the downtown core. Salvation Army will continue with foot patrol.
- Respite Services will continue to be provided at Tom Brown and Bernard Grandmaître. CSSD is currently working with our community partners and vendors to develop mitigation strategies for onsite services. (e.g. refreshments, harm reduction, security, etc.)

Unchanged at this time:

- The City is not anticipating an impact to residential waste collection at this time. However, staff will be monitoring and will communicate any necessary changes. Street-side receptacles and litter are being addressed where access permits.

Snow removal operations are planned to resume as of Monday morning.

The EOC will continue to monitor and update as the situation continues.
